Don't Kick Them Out!
How to Manage Defiant Student Behavior
Presented by: Dr. Jesse W. Jackson III

Audience: Educators, administrators and adults whom regularly interact with at-risk youth. Dr. Jackson's Book "Don't Kick Them Out!" will be provided to the first 50 participants.

Topic: Suspension does not solve or correct negative student behavior!
Educators need a different approach. This seminar will empower professional educators with the knowledge, information and understanding they need to improve in school discipline practices and correct negative behaviors of at-risk students. This empowerment seminar will discuss:

- Why At-Risk Students Get Suspended So Frequently
- Anger Management: Why students display hostile and angry dispositions
- The difference between abuse, discipline and correction
- How to communicate with at-risk students for consistent positive behavioral outcomes
- Methods of successful discipline
- Does age, gender, or race matter in the discipline process?
- How to Address Behavioral Issues of At-Risk Students
- Common Behaviors for Referrals
- The Wrong Approach To Negative Behavior
- 7 Teacher Personality Types
- Why Do Students Disrespect Teachers?
- 21 Dos & Don'ts To Solve Disruptive Classroom Behavior

Presenter: Dr. Jesse W. Jackson III is a nationally recognized school behavior consultant and therapist who specialize in at-risk student achievement and criminal behavior prevention.

Cost: $75.00 fee for open enrollment. This workshop is provided free of charge for Truants' Alternative and Optional Education Program (TAOEP), Regional Safe School Program (RSSP) personnel.

This workshop is hosted by the Regional Office of Education #3 in conjunction with the Regional Office of Education #41. The TAOEP Professional Development Project is funded by the Illinois State Board of Education.
